FOREWORD

All praise belongs to Allah, the One who has given grace to all His creatures. Peace and blessings upon Prophet Muhammad SAW (Salallahu Alaihi Wassalam), who successfully brought humankind to enlightenment world with his struggle and work hard. At this moment, please let me give a short speech in occasion to publish the SOSIOHUMANIKA journal, November 2020 edition.

The FISIP UNSYIAH (Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, Syiah Kuala University) was founded in 2007. In the beginning of the establishment, FISIP UNSYIAH had only three Study Programs. They were Sociology, Political Study, and Communication Study. However, there was a great enthusiasm among society to study in the FISIP UNSYIAH, due to the complexity of political dynamic in Aceh. Therefore, since 2013, the FISIP UNSYIAH has founded the latest Study Program, namely Public Administration.

The FISIP UNSYIAH has a vision to become a leading Faculty that is capable of conducting education, research, and community service at many levels, such as locally, nationally, and globally in which it upholds 2025's values of ethics and morals. In order to achieve the vision, at least FISIP UNSYIAH has four missions: the first one is to provide professionally and highly quality learning system in the field political and social knowledge; the second one is to develop applied or pure excellent academic research; the third one is to develop community service program creatively, innovatively, and sustainably with regards to potential local culture; and the last one is to empower students' talents and interests to be able to compete nationally and globally.

To implement the vision and mission, FISIP UNSYIAH keeps conducting the Threefold Mission of Higher Education (Tri Dharma Perguruan Tinggi) and it also aims to develop its community to compete locally, nationally, and globally with the values, morals, and ethics of religion. All works are proved by the rising number of lecturers' publications in International Journals with SCOPUS index or National Journal with accreditation of SINTA. Furthermore, to increase lectures' publications in FISIP UNSYIAH, there has been appointed MoU (Memorandum of Understanding) between FISIP UNSYIAH and ASPENSI (the Association of Indonesian Scholars of History Education) in Bandung to publish the articles in the SINTA 2 Journal or indexed by DOAJ (Directory of Open Access Journal). Thank you to Minda Masagi Foundation and ASPENSI Executive Board for the collaboration and I hope it keep going to the future.

As shown in the publication of the SOSIOHUMANIKA journal, this November 2020 edition, there are two articles from FISIP UNSYIAH's Lecturers, each of which studies and analyzes the theme of the Regional Head General Election in Banda Aceh. General Elections are a democratic and safe mechanism for knowing, understanding, and implementing the aspirations and political will of the people at the grassroots level. General Election, thus, is the right of every citizen, including the right of citizens who are less fortunate, due to limitations and physical constraints, for example.

While the other three articles came from the Lecturers outside the FISIP UNSYIAH, even from abroad, namely from UBD (University of Brunei Darussalam) in Bandar Seri Begawan, which studied the Malay Women's College and its role in advancing education and developing the country of Brunei Darussalam, both before independence and the implications after independence. Presenting articles from abroad is very good, as a reference and reflection for the Indonesian people that the progress and welfare of a nation-state can only be measured based on its comparison with the progress and welfare that has been achieved by other countries in the World.

Meanwhile, the article written by a Lecturer of STIE (College of Economics) Equity in Bandung, in collaboration with the Lecturers from UNPAD (Padjadjaran University) Bandung, examines the tourism program in West Java and efforts to attract tourists, both local and foreign. Finally, the article written by the Lecturers of UMP (Muhammadiyah University of Purwokerto) in Central Java, examines the Indonesian language skills for Junior High School' students, especially in writing essays, developing vocabulary, and arguing in writing.

Hope, all readers do enjoy those articles that we have provided. Again, keep social distancing and healthy during the global pandemic of COVID-19 (Corona Virus Disease 2019).

Banda Aceh, Indonesia: November 30, 2020.
